In support of the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA) and the Building a Better Grid Initiative, the Department of Energy (DOE) developed a $2.3 billion formula grant program to strengthen and modernize America's power grid against wildfires, extreme weather, and other natural disasters. Section 40101 (d) of the IIJA established a formula grant program (Program) providing $459 million annually over a period of five years to states (and Indian Tribes) to improve the resilience of the electric grid against disruptive events. The DOE's allocation of funds to the State of Alaska under IIJA 40101(d) is $12,110,523 annually for five years.

Formula-based funding requires a 15 percent state match and a 33 percent small utility match.

Project Description/Justification:

The Alaska Energy Authority (AEA) is the sole state entity for the state of Alaska to apply for, receive, and administer the IIJA Section 40101(d) federal funds. This request is for the State allocation only and does not include funds allocated to Tribes.

The objective of this program is to improve the resilience of the electric grid against disruptive events. Per IIJA section 40101(a)(1), a disruptive event is "an event in which operations of the electric grid are disrupted, preventively shut off, or cannot operate safely due to extreme weather, wildfire, or a natural disaster." To achieve this objective, funding provided by DOE under the program may be used to implement a wide range of resilience measures intended to mitigate the impact of disruptive events, including:

- a) weatherization technologies and equipment;
- b) fire-resistant technologies and fire prevention systems;
- c) monitoring and control technologies;
- d) the undergrounding of electrical equipment;
- e) utility pole management;
- f) the relocation of power lines or the reconductoring of power lines with low-sag, advanced conductors;
- g) vegetation and fuel-load management;
- h) the use or construction of distributed energy resources for enhancing system adaptive capacity during disruptive events, including:
 - a. microgrids; and
 - b. battery-storage subcomponents;
- i) adaptive protection technologies;
- j) advanced modeling technologies;
- k) hardening of power lines, facilities, substations, of other systems; and
- l) the replacement of old overhead conductors and underground cables.

Funding may also be used for the training, recruitment, retention, and retraining of skilled and properly credentialed workers in order to perform the work required for the resilience measures listed above.

Resilience measures that are not allowed under Section 40101(d) include:

- 1. Construction of a new-
 - a. Electric generating facility; or
 - b. Large-scale battery-storage facility that is not used for enhancing system adaptive capacity during disruptive events; or
- 2. Cybersecurity.

For the purpose of implementing eligible resilience measures that achieve the objectives of Section 40101(d), grant funding may be used to issue subawards to eligible entities. Eligible entities include:

- a) an electric grid operator;
- b) an electricity storage operator;
- c) an electricity generator;
- d) a transmission owner or operator;
- e) a distribution provider;
- f) a fuel supplier, and
- g) any other relevant entity, as determined by the Secretary (of DOE).
