Project Description/Justification:

Seward Bear Creek Service Area Flood Mitigation

These communities provide both year-round recreation and large economic support for the entire state of Alaska through the City of Seward. By ensuring that flood mitigation projects are adequately addressed, economic activity and ongoing logistic supports from Seward's port of entry can continue unhindered during flooding season and long-term solutions can be provided.

Rockslide Mitigation to Protect Skagway's Port

The Rockslide Mitigation to Protect Skagway's Critical Port Economy project is a complete effort to mitigate slope failures that have occurred on the slopes above the primary and largest cruise ship terminal in the community in order to protect critical infrastructure and Skagway economic viability. The project will impact the entire region, as the inability to use the dock will result in itinerary changes with cascading effects to other Alaska port communities. The loss of even one ship will result in a negative economic impact to the state of $80 million to $120 million annually (derived from industry total economic impact as calculated by State of Alaska).
